Youth Council Presents Legacy Project

Flags and Flag Poles Presented to City

By Wini Jensen, City Recorder

The Highland Youth Council each year selects a special legacy project to give to the City. Funding has come from proceeds raised by the Youth Council at the Highland Fling, along with occasional contributions from Highland City. Past year's projects include: flags which line the Heritage Park during holidays, statue at the City Building, picture for Mayor's office, and the marquee at Heritage Park. The project selected by the Youth Council for 2003 included procurement of United States, Utah State, and Highland City flags, and installation of flag poles near the Veterans' Statue at the Cemetery. The flag poles were generously donated by Tanner, Parker, and McKenzi Allen.

On Saturday, January 24, the Youth Council, Advisors, Mayor Jess Adamson, Representative John Dougall, and invited guests enjoyed a program and ceremony at the cemetery to raise the flags. The Youth Mayor for 2003, Jared Johansen, gave a dedication speech. The Highland Youth Council and advisors, Steve and Janet King, and Alan and Brenda Olsen, should be commended for their many efforts to make Highland a place in which we can all be proud to live. A special thanks for their service to the community.

Message from the Police Chief

By Kip Botkin, Police Chief

The traffic signal in Highland is well underway in construction. In fact the cross arms and signal "head" are installed. The remaining functions include the physical electrical hook-ups, installing the control box, and a testing period. Currently a date to be totally functioning is not known, but it should not be too distant.

Traffic continues to be one of our main focuses. As of January 7, 2004, we began using a totally revamped traffic school. The new format and presentation method has been well accepted. To those drivers who have assisted us in our goal to make our citizens better drivers by a variety of activities, we express our gratitude. Our personal injury classification of traffic collisions dropped 34% in 2003, as compared to 2002. This may be due to reduced speeds because of our enforcement actions. Our property accident classification of traffic collisions remained the same.

Our goal is to protect all our citizens and visitors to the best of our ability. Your cooperation and assistance in this goal is appreciated.
